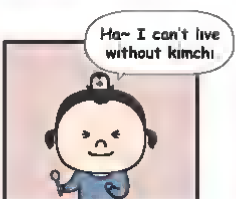
Korean Food, British Food: Part 1

My body always wants Korean food.

Even though I live abroad, it's not so difficult to get some Korean food.



That's very fortunate.

It is not surprising that I love Korean food, as I'm Korean.

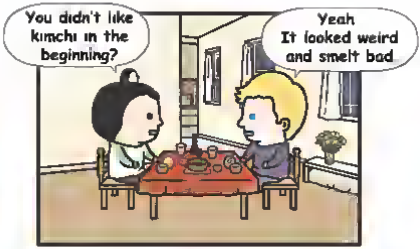
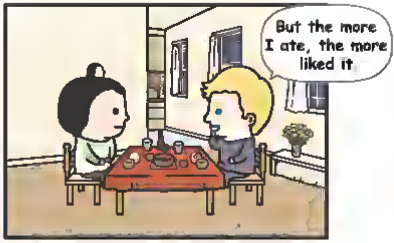
But when Mev acts like this .

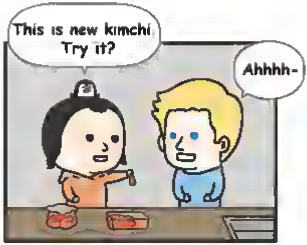
....that makes me giggle somehow.

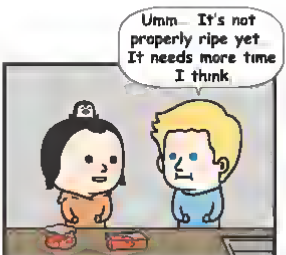


Mev didn't like kimchi when we first tried it.



But through his experiences,
he finally grew to like it very much.





Even he can give his opinion about kimchi.

Try it please.

As I said before,
I sometimes treat guests
with Korean food.

Of course I always wish
the guests will like it.

But it doesn't work every time for everyone.

Oh well,
it really is a different food.

I understand that they don't like it much.

So I don't mind too much.

It might be weird at first, but if you keep trying, it's sooo good.
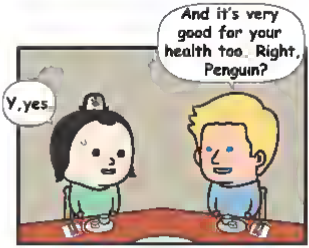
And



And it's very good for your health too. Right, Penguin?
Y, yes.

When I see Mev being more sensitive than I am...

... I feel funny.

To be continued